

2025 marks the 500th anniversary of the Anabaptist movement.

Who were the Anabaptists?

Radical reformers – Church planters – Peace activists – Pioneers of religious liberty.

The 'Encountering the Anabaptists' course introduces their history, beliefs, practices and contemporary relevance.

The course has been offered online three times in the past two years – once a week for four weeks from 7pm to 9pm. Over 100 people have participated in these courses.

There is interest in running the course again in the autumn, so it will be running on the four Tuesdays in November (4, 11, 18 and 25). It will cost only £20 and will include a copy of The Naked Anabaptist by Stuart Murray.

For more information, please contact Stuart at anabaptist@bristol-baptist.ac.uk.

To book a place on the course, go to <https://www.tickettailor.com/events/anabaptismennonitenetwork1/1834962>